June 4th 2019: CyberRisk: Keeping Your CFO Awake At Night!

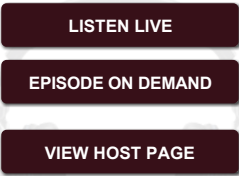

The buzz: "The prevailing theory today is that the data was stolen by a nation-state for spying purposes, not by criminals looking to cash in on stolen identities" (Kate Fazzini, cnbc.com). Remember the 2017 Equifax data breach that affected millions of credit card users? Graeme Payne, Equifax SVP and CIO, was held responsible and fired. What does your C-Suite need to know about cybersecurity and its relationship to enterprise and cyber risk management? The experts speak. Graeme Payne, Cybersecurity4Executives: "If you make listening and observation your occupation you will gain much more than
