May 19th 2015: Toxic and Counterfeit News and Views

Living with risk is a reality that we are faced with each and every day. From the time we are conceived until the day we die we are faced with the danger of coming in contact with Toxic Substances and Chemicals in their natural form or from something that was manmade. Over time we learn about dangerous substances that we have created and eventually we take steps to mitigate their effects. Some identify this as our road to prosperity while others consider this a slippery slope to hell. On today's show we will explore Toxic and Counterfeit News articles found on the internet. I invite you t
