January 11th 2017: Men Chase, Women Choose: The Neuroscience of Love with Dawn Maslar

Have you ever wondered why you feel so incredibly happy when you're falling in love with someone? Do you want to know the science behind why we feel attracted to certain partners? You may discover that love isn't all that mysterious, when you know the science behind what makes our hearts go pitter patter. This week on Destination Love, Host Chelli Pumphrey interviews biologist Dawn Maslar, author of Men Chase, Women Choose: The Neuroscience of Meeting, Dating, Losing Your Mind, and Finding True Love. Dawn will help us understand the neurological processes that are occurring in your b
