January 25th 2017: The New, Natural Flavors and Fragrances

Most flavors and fragrances are made from petroleum, did you know that? The new technology wave is bringing forward a set of clean, natural alternatives made from waste materials and renewable sugars. In this episode, we'll be joined by longtime Flavors & Fragrances industry expert Scott Chaplin, industrial biotech expert Ron Cascone, and James Stephens, co-CEO of Blue Marble Biomaterials, one of the leading companies in this new innovative wave. What can you make, what is made from — why is the natural option more sustainable, reliable, just as affordable and increasingly available!
